Proponent Questions:

Question 1: Can we attach an existing/our own rate sheet in place of Schedule A "rate sheet"?

Yes, the "Rates" may be substituted with an alternative so long as the information provided satisfies the requirements of the rate sheet.

Question 2: Are small excavation contractors & equipment with operators eligible?

Yes, the FVRD has a variety of needs that would include small equipment. Jobs vary in size and scope, and successful proponents will be selected for work that is best suited to their equipment and capabilities.

Question 3: How are contractors selected for the work that comes up under the standing offer agreement?

Contractors are typically selected from the pre-qualified standing offer list based on the requirements of the specific work assignment. Factors may include the contractor's relevant experience and capacity, availability to meet the required schedule, past performance with the FVRD, and any project-specific qualifications or safety requirements. Ultimately, it is up to the FVRD's discretion as to who is selected for work that comes up under the standing offer and being selected to/entering into an agreement does not guarantee a contractor will receive work.

Clarification: Schedule A "Form of proposal" is referenced incorrectly as Schedule B within the proposal. All language referencing Schedule B "Form of proposal" and Schedule B "Rates" (rate sheet) is to be included in Schedule A "Form of proposal".

Schedule B "Proponents Experience" remains unchanged.
